WHAT IT IS

Before you hire anyone, find out what's actually going on with your house.

A Home Clarity Report is a 5-business-day assessment of your home, conducted in person by Adam Kilgore and the HBC team. We document every system, measure every room, photograph every space, and write a plain-English scope and budget for every project you're considering. Then we give it all to you. No sales pressure. No upsell. Just clarity.

The Report costs $4,500. The homeowners we've worked with save an average of $16,100 on their first major project after going through the process. The math is simple: knowing what your home actually needs, and what fair pricing looks like, saves more than it costs.

And it doesn't end when the Report is delivered. Every Report includes lifetime access to your Home Clarity Hub, a private digital portal that knows your house and answers your questions for as long as you own it.

Find HBC first. Before you hire anyone.

YOUR HOME CLARITY HUB

An operating system for your house.

The portal lives forever. Trained on your home, and your home only.

01 Your house, on call. Forever.

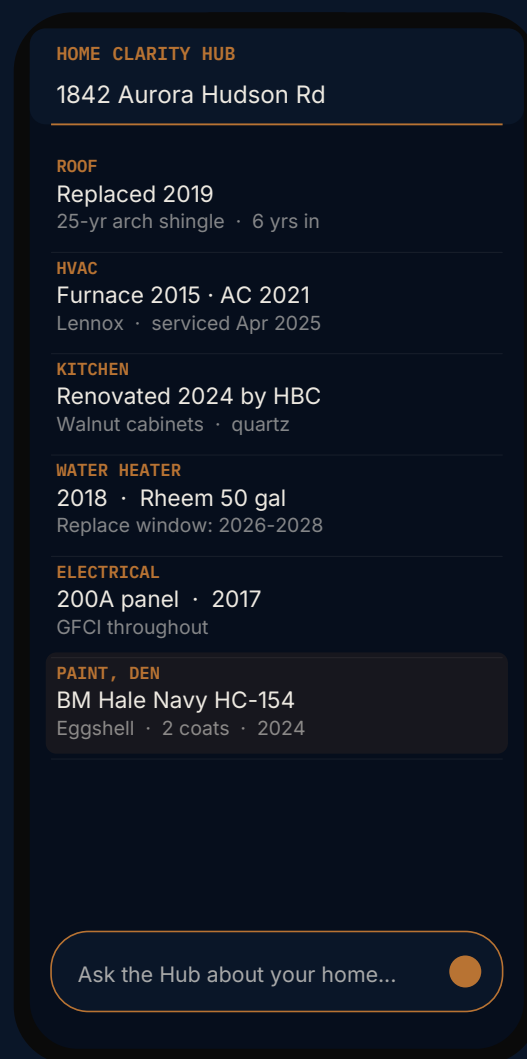

Your Home Clarity Hub doesn't get filed away. It lives in a private portal you and your family can open from any phone, any time. The paint color in the den. The year the roof was replaced. What that valve under the sink does. It's all there.

02 A second opinion before you say yes to anyone.

Quote from a contractor seems off? Ask the Hub. It knows your house, every measurement, every system, every material our team documented, and answers in plain language. Adam and the HBC team are one tap away if you want a human on the line.

03 Built only on your home. Not on the internet.

Think of it as an operating system for your house. Trained on your home and your home only, so what it tells you is pulling from what we actually saw in your walls, not generic remodeling forums.
